AFTERNOON DISPATCHES

The Autopsy on Guitéau's Body—A Soft Brain.

The Democratic State Central Committee says—They are Harmonious Baldwin Wins a Race at Chicago.

Associated Press Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The physicians who performed the autopsy, Drs. D. L. Lamb, J. T. Hartigan and Z. T. Ewer—C. A. Kleinschmidt, J. R. Hunger, John W. Guitéau and Rev. Dr. Hicks being absent for the examination after a close examination of the body showed that Guitéau's neck was broken, and the rope cut a deep gash into the flesh. The body was removed and laid upon the table scales. Other physicians attending the right and other physicians. Different parts of the body were placed about on the tables. The operations of the three surgeons engaged in the autopsy were watched with great interest by other medical gentlemen who crowded about the table after each operation. The eyes and brain were removed to be inspected. Dr. A. B. Cushing found the left eye completely suffused with blood, and both eyes so indistinct that no opinion could be formed about the condition of the vision. The body was cut open and a thorough examination made with the view to determine all physiological facts that could be of interest in connection with the case. The brain was found to be in a normal condition and weighed forty-four pounds. The heart weighed a little over nine ounces and in a healthy condition was the heart of internal organs. At 3:15 the autopsy was adjourned until evening. The physicians were disinclined to go in the details regarding the results thus far received. Dr. Hartigan left the jail soon after five o'clock, having seen Guitéau's brain. Dr. Godding, who has maintained that Guitéau was insane, when asked what was the result of the autopsy, said, "I have nothing to say now." All the physicians present there was a desire in the brain and heart to be examined. None of them care to express a positive opinion until after the examination of the brain is completed. Dr. Harting, who has the custody of Guitéau's brain, took it to the Army Medical Museum, where a number set apart a photograph of his brain to a number of surgeons and physicians had assembled to continue the autopsy. It has been the intention of the surgeons to begin by making plaster casts of the brain with a view of permanent preservation in that form of its configuration and external character, but the organ was found so soft and yielding. As to render this impracticable. A resort was therefore had to photography. On account of the lateness of the hour and dull and overcast sky preparations were necessarily hurried. But, after placing the brain on a mass of ice, it was found that the brain, which it had been during life, a number of negatives were taken from various points of view, with more or less successful results. The anatomical examinations were then resumed. This examination, which will include a careful microscopical study of the organic and structural characteristics of the organ, are certainly not likely to be finished before to-morrow afternoon, and may occupy several days. The surgeons and physicians participating in the examination have agreed to make public in the meantime any individual conclusion that may arrive at, in order that the official report, when made, may have full weight and value as representing the conclusions of all examining physicians. The results of the examination will be submitted as the suggestion at first suggested, but showed a rupture of the stellate muscle on both sides as well as on the thyro physical membrane. Death resulted from suffocation.

REPRESENTATIVE HAWKS DEAD.
WASHINGTON, July 1.—Representative Hawks, of Illinois, died in the city this evening.

IMMIGRATION BILL VETOED.
WASHINGTON, July 1.—The President has determined to veto the bill to regulate immigration that received the House.

It is False.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—A meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee was held to-day, at which a resolution was adopted to the effect that rumors to the purport that the Committee is not in accord with the action of the State Convention is unfoundedly false, and expressing hearty endorsement of all the nominations made at San Jose.

The Martinez Chinese Trouble.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—The Chinese Minister at Washington has complained to the State Department of an attack on a Chinese washhouse at Martinez last April, when one was killed and another was severely injured. The Secretary of State has called the attention of Governor Perkins to the matter, and he has referred it to the District Attorney of Contra Costa county for information. Some of the who have been indicted by the Grand Jury.

Jennie Cramer's Murderer Not Guilty.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 1.—The jury in the Malley trial for the murder of Jennie Cramer, brought in a verdict of not guilty.

A Cyclone in Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURGH, July 1.—A cyclone strikes in the three-quarter mile from two-year-olds to adults, to be followed by a short heat wave. The cyclone was born in the hills of the Allegheny mountains, and it is expected to pass through the state of New Jersey, and then into New York.

Baldwin's Cut Wine.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The Criterion stakes in the three-quarter mile for two years old, to be followed by a short heat wave. The cyclone was born in the hills of the Allegheny mountains, and it is expected to pass through the state of New Jersey, and then into New York.

Outraging a School Teacher.

TAYLORSVILLE, Ill., July 1.—Two men have been arrested for a brutal outrage committed on Miss Bond, a school teacher. There seems to be a certain identification of one of the men. A third man was said to be gathered at the home of the lady, and Judge Lynch will probably settle the affair before morning.

The Prohibition Question.

CHICAGO, July 1.—A discussion has been started in Whittier, Indiana, and Michigan, on the great prohibitory victory in Iowa, which seems likely to bring the prohibition question to a vote at an early day in each of the States named.

BRANCH NORMAL SCHOOL BUILDING AT LOS ANGELES, CAL.

THE BRANCH NORMAL.

A View of the Building and Description.

HANDSOME, ORNAMENTAL AND USEFUL

WELL-ORGANIZED—PLAN OF BUILDING—FAVORABLE CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION—GENERAL INFORMATION.

The Branch Normal School at Los Angeles will be fully organized August 23, 1882, when the first term will open in the new building.

The legislative actions that secured the location of the school in Los Angeles, the appropriations for the construction and furnishing of the building and the support of the school were successful in the session of 1881, though many bills had been passed in the Senate and failed to pass the Assembly by only three votes the previous session (1880).

The Board of Trustees selected from the plans and specifications presented for their examination those of Curlett & Co., of Philadelphia, and appointed S. H. Keat, of San Francisco, Superintendent of Construction; J. D. Campbell, of San Jose, Foreman of Construction, and John R. Brereton, of Los Angeles, Clerk of Construction. The construction of the building was begun Nov. 28, 1881, and is now nearly completed.

The building will accommodate about 350 pupils in the Normal School and 100 in the Training School.

PLAN OF THE BUILDING.

The exterior plan is shown in part by the view of the building and grounds in the engraving made from the fine photographs taken by Mr. E. F. Clegg, of the Elite Gallery, Los Angeles.

The interior plans comprise basement, principal floor, second floor, and in the main building an attic. The front of the building, toward Cherry Street is 134 feet, the rear toward Main Street is 125 feet, and the width of the building is uniform, as follows: Basement, 11 feet; principal floor, 14 feet; second floor, 14 feet in main building and 20 feet in rear wing for the Assembly Hall.

Rooms planned for the following:

A SECOND ENLARGEMENT.

It is not necessary to say it: the fact is before you. The Times is enlarged again—the second enlargement in its short existence of but seven months. Our enemies prophesied that this paper would not exist three months from its establishment. From the present outlook we think no paper ever had better prospects for living three centuries than has the Times, on this day of grace, July 3, 1882. Many were the dubious shakings of the head and many the croakers who said the field was fully occupied and another paper than those already established could not live here. The Times has demonstrated that it can not only live but can flourish. Our friends have proved to be legion, and while other papers scold and berate our citizens, for not emptying their citizens into the lap of the precious editor, we have but to thank this people for a most hearty and generous support.

Look at our columns this morning and judge if it is an idle tale we are telling. We could not ask a better support. And not only are our columns filled with advertisements, but new subscribers are constantly being added until our carriers' routes are coming to need the best engineering skill that all may be properly served.

Our weekly, THE MINION, will also be enlarged to a double sheet—seventy-two long columns. Our country friends, as well as those in the towns, will receive consideration, and to all who have helped us heretofore, we extend our warmest and most grateful thanks. To those who have not yet made the acquaintance of THE MINION, we say subscribe—we will do you good.

STATUS OF THE COUNTRY.

We do not item it at all necessary to reply to every carping scribbler who may raise his voice against the policy of the Republican party. When we say the party has no set of principles to announce, it is an answer to anything that may be said against its past or present policy, and the existence of the country, and its prosperous condition, are at once monuments of its patriotic and wisdom, and proofs in support of all we say.

The Republican party was an anti-slavery party on the day of its birth, and when the attempt was made to carry that blighting curse over the fair fields of the North, the Republican party met the attempt with its men and its treasure, and made the heretofore boasted land of liberty the land of the free and home of the brave in fact. That the party is a fixture. There need be no more reassuring to prove to the people where we stand on any measure affecting the general welfare of the masses.

For the country's defences, the Republicans will not burden the people with huge standing armies and idle nations to consume the produce of the hand of industry, but relies upon the patriotism of the holders of the soil to drive back an invader or to throttle a rebellion. The history of the past justifies the faith thus reposed in the descendants of the pilgrim fathers. There is no need to waste time in manufacturing platforms with which to insult a people who have given so many proofs of ability to care for themselves.

Of the general policy of the party that has dominated the country for a quarter of a century, it is sufficient to say that it has led to unparalleled prosperity. It has established a credit ruined by the war gotten up by Democratic traitors, on a basis superior to that of any land. It has stimulated manufacturers to such an extent that instead of being importers of almost everything as we were under the regime of the last of the Democrats, we are now exporting to the far ends of the earth, and bearding the lion in his den by spreading our wars on the streets of the largest of European manufacturing towns. The wealth of the world is rolling in upon us for our bonds, our agricultural products and our manufactures. It would not be wise to attempt a departure from the policy that has given us all this.

The settlement of the country, and the building up of its waste places during the reign of the Republican party, is a marvel the world looks upon with astonishment and admiration, and all who can, seem determined to reach as to share in the prosperity that appears to have no bottom. Our railroad system has opened up hitherto valueless territory, and made the most distant tributary to the great cities by the sea. Improved machinery brings from the bowels of the earth its treasures which gladden the heart of man, who sits in peace beneath his vine and fig tree to enjoy them. And the far corners of the earth are being fed and lighted by the products of our grain fields and our oil deposits. Who of the world suggest a change of policy that has wrought these—policy that is rapidly making us the leaders of the world?

The policy of the Republic party is the direct assessor upon its life—the ruin of the nation, the assassination of its credit by the loss of its debts, and the destruction of the rail-bows of promise. There is but one thing to sadden the patriotic heart, and that is a fear that by some possibility, some designing Democrat may lead the denizens of the slums and stews to a successful attack upon the measures that have given us all this power and prosperity. It is the duty of the hour to see that their first attempts are thwarted. We should work constantly to keep the policy alive, and the old banners to the front. Let us throttle at once the policy outlined in the platform of the California Democrats of 1882.

OUR BIGNESS.

The United States and Territories have a gross (approximate) area of land and water, as computed by the Census office, of 3,025,600 square miles. The area of our coast waters (bays, gulfs, sounds, etc.) is 17,200 square miles; of rivers and smaller streams, 14,500; of lakes and ponds, 27,900; making a total water surface of 55,000 square miles—thus leaving the total land surface 2,970,000 square miles.

California's gross area is 158,360 square miles; of coast waters, 340; of rivers and smaller streams, 240; of lakes and ponds, 1,600; making the total water surface 2,380 square miles—leaving the total land surface 155,980 square miles. These measurements include the Bays of San Francisco, Folsom and San Diego; half of the boundary portion of the Colorado River and the portion of Lake Tahoe within the State line.

The only State larger than California is Texas, with a land area of 260,290 square miles. The Golden State is larger than the nine States of New York, Ohio, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Delaware and Rhode Island combined. And yet she has less than a million inhabitants, while the States enumerated contain an aggregate population of 13,549,143! Verily, we have much room yet to accommodate emigration and the most industrious efforts in this direction of natural increase.

The county having the largest area is San Bernardino—23,000 square miles; the next San Diego—14,600; Los Angeles stands ninth in the list, with 4750 square miles (but in this area is enough good land to make a State rich).

Ion W. A. Cheney has been secured to deliver the oration here on the Fourth. This announcement should be sufficient to attract a large delegation of your friends to our shores. We will welcome you.

EDUCATIONAL.

Special Meeting of the County Board of Education.

The board met in the office of the Superintendent of Schools for the purpose of reorganization at 3 p.m. Full board present.

The regular meeting of office of Dr. Joseph Kirtz in the office of Mr. McDonald was adjourned to meet again July 6, to canvass the examination papers of pupils who have applied for diplomas of graduation, and to renew certificates expiring at that time.

Mammoth Institution.

S. W. Luitweiler's Studebaker headstock is constantly expanding in size and stock. A special made of heavy freight and quartz wagons for Arizona 3-4 tons, 5-6 tons, 6-7 tons, with wheels over six feet in height. Buckboards, for prospectors, are also a specialty. Wagons, carriages, buggies and phaetons can be purchased at this reliable house to good advantage as in San Francisco.

ATTENTION.

The regular monthly meeting of the society for the promotion of manufactures will be held in Union Hall to-morrow evening. All interested in this important undertaking are urged to be present.

We are sorry to say that our 13th Annual Picnic and Entertainment, which was to be held Saturday evening, has been postponed.

RUGGED HARMONY.

An Invocation Dedicated to Jumbo the Poet.

EDITOR TIMES.—In all probability the following lines of rugged harmony are the finest literary production of the century, not excepting Guiteau's "Simplicity." They are donated to the Times, the Gifted Author relying on fame alone for recompence. As will be observed, one of the Times' correspondents occasioned this explosion of genius, which is to thunder down the corridor of the centuries, so to speak.

The aforesaid G. A. has already appropriated the pun.
